

Bringing Leadership to Life

Destiny to Lead

This course gets straight to the heart of the attitude and values behind an effective leadership style. It makes an early distinction between leadership and management and how these should work in harmony to achieve truly high performance.

Whilst such things as policies, systems and processes etc are given appropriate prominence – the programme is primarily focused on an organisation's greatest resource: people!

The programme looks at:-

- What makes a productive work environment, how to create team spirit and how to develop vital good working relationships.
- The skills of highly engaging communication, which are fundamental to any organisation, and explores how these should be optimised in the workplace.
- Vital time management and the purposes and benefits of effective delegation skills that release untapped resources.
- The link between attitude and performance and looks at 'performance evaluation' which if handled correctly will benefit all concerned.
- Handling organisational conflict and explores leadership styles and why there is a need to adapt to resolve certain situations.

Achieving greatness means leaving the 'chicken-run' of life, soaring on thermals and actually embracing storms. Come 'fly' with us and soar on 'eagle's wings'.
